BRUTE KILLS INFANT.

Commits the Fiendish Assault in Mother's Absence.

McKeesport, Pa., June 3.—Five thousand men are clamoring about the city prison for the release of Benjamin Fetty, alias Watton, arrested this morning for an assault on the three-year-old daughter of Thomas Sullivan, of No. 225 Martin street. The baby is in a dying condition.

About 10 o'clock this morning Mrs. Sullivan went to the store and left the baby in charge of her two little boys. Shortly after she left Fetty went to the house and gave the boys five cents with which to go and buy candy.

When they left he carried the baby back into the kitchen and accomplished his fiendish crime. The children returned and found the baby unconscious. Neighbors started in pursuit of Fetty, who ran up the Pennsylvania Railroad track and hid in a box car, from which he was dragged by the train crew, who attempted to throw him under the wheels of their locomotive.

The police had a desperate fight with the mob, but Fetty was finally landed in the patrol wagon and hurried to the central station with a howling crowd in pursuit.

All day long a crowd hung about the station. After the mills closed at 6 o'clock, the crowds increased to thousands. All the members of the police force are guarding the city prison. The fire department was ordered to lend assistance, but the men refused, saying they believe death is the only proper punishment for Fetty. Mayor Black at 10 o'clock made a speech to the mob, informing them that the first man who attempts to enter the prison will be shot. Privately, Mayor Black stated that if it were his child he would kill the first man who stood in his way to the cell where Fetty is confined. Several of the police announce that if it comes to fighting or resigning they will quit the force.

Fetty, who is 28 years old, has been identified as the man who terribly assaulted three little girls in Homestead a couple of weeks ago. The prisoner is utterly unconcerned.

WRECK ON THE SOUTHERN.

Switch Engine Dashes Into a Moving Passenger Train With Fatal Results.

Atlanta, Ga., June 4.—A switch engine in the yards of the Southern Railway shops near the city limits dashed into a passenger train as it was passing today, killing three passengers and injuring 16, three of them, it is feared fatally.

The dead are: Mrs. A. A. Lemon, of McDonough, Ga.; Irma, ten-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lemon; H. H. Vickers, of Florville, Ga. The injured are: Mrs. Julia Kersey, Atlanta, may die; A. F. Bunn, McDonough, Ga., may die; A. F. Fouché, McDonough, Ga., may die; D. A. George, Rex, Ga.; Wm. Richardson, Stockbridge, Ga.; Miss Rosa Withers, Washington; Miss Alma Massenburg, Washington; Mrs. F. M. Smith, McDonough, Ga.; W. F. Tidwell, McDonough; Rosa Lee, Stockbridge; Mrs. J. F. Ridley, Huntsville, Ala.; Mrs. A. F. Bunn, McDonough; Miss Bunn, McDonough; N. H. Vickers, Florville; Pierce Stewart, McDonough, young son of Mrs. Lemon.

Just beyond the Southern shops are the coal chutes and all about these are sidetracks. On one of these sidetracks and only a few feet from the main track an engine was standing that had only a short time before been abandoned by its engineer and fireman. As the train was passing the junction of this sidetrack, the switch engine suddenly dashed backward into the moving train. The first-class day coach was thrown over on its side and partly demolished, the Pullman car "Arcturus" was thrown from the track and one end smashed into kindling wood while the trucks were knocked from under the combination smoker and passenger coach. Those killed were in the day coach.

No, Maude, dear, a club woman is not necessarily heartless, and she may also have diamonds.

Duke of Portland's William III, ridden by Cannon, finished second; Douglas Baird's Veronese, Rickay, come up third. Twenty five horses ran. J. Pierpont Morgan, Senator Wolcott, ex-Vice President Morton and other Americans saw the victory.

A BENEVOLENT DESPOT.

Does the Country Need More of the Same Sort of Persons?

New York Tribune.

Bishop William L. Derrick, of the African Methodist Episcopal church, is a sage and a philosopher. He has just been presiding over a church conference of Brooklyn. He rules his flock with patriarchal authority which some other religious organization might term despotic, but with a good sense which some others would greatly profit by. Anybody who has become accustomed to the too common habit of church committee and conventions of launching anathemas against persons who believe that an army canteen is a good thing rather than a bad thing, or who argue that an exposition ground is better open than closed on Sunday, or who take a different view from them on the moral questions involved in any public policy, will rejoice at the measure of the saving grace of humor and common sense which Bishop Derrick brings to the rescue of a race whose wrongs might not unnaturally move them to loud protests and denunciations whenever occasion offered.

The conference has a committee on the state of the country it looked over the country and saw many things amiss, including the condition of the negroes in South Carolina, but Bishop Derrick said: "Let Tillman alone. He's too bad to be noticed, and all you might say would only recoil on yourselves." That was all well enough for the bishop, but the committee had a report to make, and didn't like to be deprived of all its good material. So the chairman objected, and asked if he wanted a blank piece of paper for a report, and the bishop answered: "Yes! A blank piece of paper is a good deal better than a lot of inflammatory rubbish. Just report, 'We have examined into the condition of the country, and we find that the United States is at peace with all the world.' That will do first rate."

Indeed it will! It will do in nine cases out of ten in the matter of committee reports and conference proceedings of all kinds. The amount of rubbish, inflammatory and otherwise, sent forth for the affliction of mankind by all sorts of people who feel that they must stir up something is beyond computation. If we only had a few more benevolent despotic Bishop Derricks to attend conventions and curb the fanatics, busybodies, and bores! How delightful it would be if half the misplaced zeal for "viewing with alarm" things unimportant or things unchangeable could be quieted, not with leave to print, but with a hint that a blank piece of paper would be an excellent report!

Dead Man as a Scare-Crow.

Connellsville, Pa., June 3.—All day travelers along the road between this place and Moyer admired what they supposed to be a very cleverly arranged scarecrow, in a field on the Buttermore farm. It was the figure of a man suspended from a tree, the feet about six feet from the ground with all the clothes on.

A clear-sighted teamster went up into the field to investigate, and found the supposed scarecrow to be the body of a man. The body was evidently that of an Italian, the complexion being dark, the hair black and the features fine and sharply chiseled. He had climbed out on a limb of the tree, and with the rope about his neck, dropped off.

NEW PRESIDENT.

Prof. Ira D. Remsen the Trustees' Choice to Succeed Dr. Gilman.

Baltimore, Md., June 3.—Prof. Ira D. Remsen, who since the founding of the Johns Hopkins University in 1876, has occupied the chair of chemistry, will be the future President of this institution to succeed Dr. Daniel C. Gilman, resigned.

This decision was reached by the trustees at a meeting held this afternoon. Dr. Gilman's resignation will take effect this month. Prof. Remsen will enter upon his duties as President at the beginning of the academic year in September.

The new President whose name was among the first mentioned for the place would have preferred to remain in charge of the chemistry department, but insisted upon the part of the members of the board led him to change his mind.

He accepted the place on condition that he be permitted to continue directing the work in the chemical laboratory. Dr. Remsen is popular with the students at the university, and demonstrated his ability as an executive during the year he occupied the President's position while Dr. Gilman was temporarily absent.

Prof. Remsen was born in New York in 1846. He received his degree of B. A. when 19 years old at the College of the City of New York. Two years later he was made a Doctor of Medicine at the New York College of Physicians and Surgeons. After this he went abroad to study, and in 1870 received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at the University of Goettingen. After serving for a short time as assistant in chemistry at the University of Tuebingen he returned to America and assumed the professorship of chemistry at Williams College, whence he came to Johns Hopkins. For his writings Dr. Remsen has the degree of LL. D. from the Columbia College and Princeton University.

Robbery Story a Fake.

Seattle, Wash., June 2.—George Mulligan, of Kansas, who claimed Friday night that he was assaulted and robbed of $17,000, is himself under surveillance. Mulligan was not robbed. He confessed to the chief of police that he had kept the money hidden in the hotel, where he was stopping at the time, and made up his story. The money has been recovered.

Mulligan stated to the chief of police that he was trying to test his companions. Mulligan's thirty-three companions, members of the Eagle Placer Mining Company, had the utmost confidence in him. So great was the confidence of these men in their leader that they made statements to the effect that they fully believed that Mulligan had been robbed, and that they were willing to pay the loss. They were on their way to the Yukon, and were going to conduct a placer mining establishment.

TUNNELING A MOUNTAIN.

Account of a Stupendous Engineering Feat in the West.

Montana Record.

The wonderful achievements of tunneling a big mountain at Sherman, Wyoming, by the Union Pacific in order to reduce the grade and shorten the track has been accomplished, and on May 1 regular service was commenced on the new line from Buford to Tie Siding, which becomes a part of the main line of "the overland route."

The contract for this work was awarded about a year ago, and its completion is reckoned one of the most astonishing feats of railroad engineering yet accomplished. The general public has no idea of the gigantic tunneling through the Rockies in connection with this work.

The Sherman tunnel, forming a very important part of the project, is situated between Dale Creek and Tie Siding, nearly half a mile long. In the mountain it pierces is found the archaic formation, one of the hardest of granite rocks, from which comes Sherman gravel, so extensively used on the Union Pacific for ballast.

Standing conspicuously out in this great engineering work are two fills. Lone tree fill and Dale creek fill. The embankment at the last named fill is 145 feet in the highest place, 900 feet long, 40 feet wide at the top, 115 feet at the bottom. The Lone Tree fill is southeast of the town of Sherman. The embankment is 130 feet high at the highest point. These two fills involved the handling of 500,000 cubic yards of earth and stone.

Two of the old embankments adjacent required the moving of 250,000 yards, so that this particular part of the work, all within the distance of a mile, necessitated the moving of more than 750,000 cubic yards of earth and rock. Through the embankments pass large concrete and iron culverts, to provide for the drainage of the large area obtaining on Dale creek. The new tunnel is so well constructed that with freedom from density of air one may see clearly with the naked eye from one end of the tunnel to the other.

The saving in motive power to the Union Pacific by the construction of the new line will be immense, and is evidenced by the fact that the maximum grade per mile is reduced from 97.68 per cent. to 43.3 per cent. between Buford and Laramie alone. The Union Pacific now will be able to make faster time to the Western points and haul heavier loads than ever before.

Bees Nearly Kill a Child.

Bloomington, Pa., June 3.—Frank, the young son of Millard McBride, of this city, was almost killed today by a swarm of bees. The lad was playing in the yard when attacked. His cries attracted the attention of his mother, who swooned upon seeing her child in such awful agony. She quickly regained consciousness, however, and rushing into the swarm, rescued the lad. He was horribly stung, but will recover.

WANTS FAIR PLAY.

Mobile Paper Edited by Negroes Critiques Booker Washington

Montgomery, Ala., June 3.—A mild sensation was caused here today among the members of the constitutional convention, by the receipt of a negro paper published in Mobile, containing a lengthy article criticising the tone, temper and sentiments of the appeal of Booker T. Washington, W. H. Council and other leading negroes to the constitutional convention, in behalf of the negro race. The article declares that the negroes not only ask fair play by the convention, but demand it: that there is no use in attempting to fool anybody; that if the negro is treated right he will help make the South bloom and prosper; "if treated wrong," the article says, "he will seek what opportunity he can to weaken it, so that he can destroy this system of semi-barbarism and slavery, and that the country cannot live in peace and happiness with one law for one class, and another for another class."

"The negro is not now satisfied," says the paper, "and the race only submits because they are powerless to help themselves. The negro submits now, but that submission is by force and with discontent, a cancerous sore which will come to the surface in an eruption in a few years."

The paper quoted from is published by two prominent negro ministers of Mobile.

Among the suffrage schemes introduced in the convention today was one by Jenkins, which provides that a voter must read and write or understand the constitution, pay taxes on $300 worth of property, or have fought in a war, or been descended from a soldier. It provides, however, that an ex-slave of good character can be put on the roll, although he fills none of the other requirements. Another suffrage scheme was offered by White, of Jefferson, recently a citizen of Mississippi. Although his scheme omits the registration provision of the Mississippi, it provides a poll tax for all voters under 45, and lets in all old soldiers. After 1910 an educational qualification is added. It disfranchises vagrants, gamblers, convicts and all who buy or sell votes.

Married Him Out of Pity.

Mrs. Elsie Lewis, a widow who is 58 years old and worth about $20,000, was married yesterday in the Presbyterian church at Springfield, L. I., to Wesley C. Shaw, a carpenter, who is 64 years old, blind and poor. He met her for the first time last October and had then been blind for twelve years. It was at a sociable in the Presbyterian church, of which the bridegroom is a deacon, that they met. Mrs. Lewis then said she felt sorry for him because he was blind and they formed an acquaintance, which resulted in the marriage.

Mrs. Shaw says that she never would have married Mr. Shaw if she had not pitied him. She says that when her former husband, William N. Lewis, died five years ago she resolved never again to marry, and that it was only for pity that she changed her mind.

At the wedding were one son and five daughters of the bridegroom and nineteen grandchildren. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles H. Ruthford, the pastor of the church.

Blood Poison

THE MOST DESTRUCTIVE OF ALL HUMAN DISEASES.

The poison ejected from the fangs of the rattlesnake is not more surely fatal than the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, which pollutes and vitiates the blood, destroys the tissues and bones and eats like a canker sore into the flesh.

This horrible disease appears first in the form of a little sore or blister; soon the glands begin to swell, pimples break out on the body, the mouth and throat become sore, making it painful to eat or swallow; dreadful ulcers appear on the tongue, copper colored spots and other characteristic signs of Blood Poison come as the disease progresses, and the destructive virus takes deeper hold upon the system. The medical men are as sorely perplexed over the character of this blood poison as ever; they tell you to take mercury and potash alternately for three years, but the stomach of no human being can stand this treatment long; besides, they do not cure the disease permanently, as thousands who have tried it know.

WELLINGTON, KAN., Sept., 1900.

I contracted Blood Poison two years ago this fall, and was persuaded to try a medicine widely advertised by a remedy company in Chicago. I was required to pay a large amount in advance, and can truthfully say that I was worse when the treatment was left off than when I began. Reddish pimples would break out and fill with yellowish matter; copper-colored spots of all sizes would appear on my body; my throat was so sore I could scarcely swallow, and my mouth and tongue were seldom free from ulcers; tonsils were swollen, and my hair was coming out rapidly. This was my condition when I began your S. S. S. I have used twenty-two bottles, and am feeling splendid. Every sore on my body has healed, and my appetite good. JAKE MARTIN.

S. S. S. is not a new medicine; for nearly 50 years it has been known and used for this dreadful disease. It has brought new life and hope to thousands all over this land; it will cure you as it has others. Send for our free book on home treatment and write our physicians about your case. We will help you if you will let us; we make no charge for advice, and all correspondence is conducted in strictest confidence.

Just always lags
And drags—
He's slow as he can be,
And mamma has to say:
'Come Willie, hurry, pray!'

Wants him to help cause he's so slow—
But oh,
You ought to hear him when
He says his prayers at night!
I tell you, then,
He hussels up, all right
And nearly 'fore I get To where it says to let
'Thy will be done'—both starting even

He's through!

Fierce Fight With Footpads.

New Castle, Pa., June 3.—Coston Burns, of Ellwood City, was held up by three highwaymen and robbed of $1000 in the heart of town this afternoon.
They then got into a buggy they had in waiting and drove off on their own with the horse on the run. Burns ran to Sidle's livery stable, shouting that he was robbed. Policeman Moon and Hostler Matt Driscoll jumped in a buggy and started in pursuit. Other citizens followed on horse back and in buggies.

Coming within range of the burglars Moon opened fire with his revolver. The robbers fired back. For a mile or more a running fight was kept up. The robbers closely pursued, took to the woods, Moon and Driscoll following. The robbers' ammunition gave out and two of them were captured. One, slightly wounded, gave the name of J. W. Keenan. The other refused to give his name. They had $400. A hundred citizens are scouring woods for the third tonight.

WINE OF CARDUI

WOMEN WHO WORK.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 12. Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. Have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved.

MISS MARGARET WALSH.

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

PROFANITY IN CHICAGO.

Is It True that Americans are the Most Profane People on Earth?

Chicago Herald-Record.

The action of the big packing firm of Swift & Co., in posting notices forbidding profanity on the company's premises will receive the unqualified commendation of every person who has any conception of the elemental decencies of life.

It is not necessary to inquire into the immediate causes which led Swift & Co. to post the order. Its significance lies in the fact that a great corporation employing 5,000 persons in its packing establishment should conceive it to be necessary or desirable to forbid indulgence in profanity among its employees. The presumption is that the corporation was impelled by considerations which affected its own interests as well as the morals of the employees.

Profanity among employees in such an establishment as that of Swift & Co. is provocative of bad temper and bad feeling. It not only lowers the moral tone of the employees who are compelled to listen to it, but it is a breeder of dissension. It is the firebrand that kindles a hot temper and turns hatred into violence. It is easy to see therefore, that it may lower the efficiency of a large body of employees.

As a matter of fact there is not a shadow of excuse for profanity in any relation or exigency of life. It adds no force of power to speech. It is the confession of vocal impotency in the man who uses it. The blustering, bloviating blasphemer who flies into a rage and pours forth a stream of profanity upon all occasions is a man who is not to be feared. When it comes to a question of vocal dynamics the man whose speech is as clean and sharp as a hound's tooth will inspire most fear and respect.

The Americans have the reputation of being the most profane people on earth. In no other land or clime does the common speech reek with the pollution of profanity as here. The Japanese, the most docile, sweet-tempered, artistic, and ingenious people on earth, never poison the atmosphere of the "Flowery Kingdom" with profanity. There are no oaths or cuss words in the Japanese language.

A traveler in England, Germany, or France very rarely hears the name of the Deity taken in vain. The continental languages do not appear to lend themselves to such vile and variegated profanity as the Anglo-Saxon tongue is capable of.

Profanity is vile, disgusting, and useless habit. It is the one abhorrent blight upon a language that is destined one day to become the common vehicle of all human thought. Stop it!

OIL WELLS.

Kentucky Has Her Share of Them

Lexington, Ky., June 3.—Kentucky's oil boom has been launched and thousands of capital is centering in the oil regions. The first oil was struck in Wayne county in the year 1828 by Martin Beatty, who was drilling for salt water with a spring pole near the mouth of Troublesome creek on the Big South Fork of the Cumberland river. At a depth of 170 feet he struck a dark fluid which at once earned the name of "Devil's tar," because it ruined the salt well. He afterwards served a term in Congress and secured an appropriation for a road to his salt works. Some few barrels of this oil. "Devil's tar," as it was then known, was rafted down the Cumberland and Mississippi rivers and shipped to Liverpool, England. The well began to spout oil when the drillers abandoned it, and thousands of barrels flowed into the Big South Fork. By some means the oil ignited and the surface of the stream became a flaming furnace. The fire swept down the river for miles. Trees were charred and rocks blackened and cracked. The next strike was made in 1867 on the Huffaker farm, near Slickford. The men were also drilling for salt water, and at a depth of 160 feet struck a heavy flow of oil, which ran off in the creek and spoiled all the geese and caused Huffaker several law suits.

About one hundred wells have been drilled in Wayne county that produce all the way from one barrel to one hundred barrels per day. The oil is a dark green, from 38 to 42 gravity and is very fine. It is found anywhere from 160 to 1,200 feet and the sand varies from 28 to 42 feet in depth. In 1890 A. H. Hovey, within few miles of the Huffaker well, on the Cy Brown farm, at Slickford, from three wells produced 2,200 barrels in 51 days, but as there was no market for the oil the wells were shut down. These wells vary from 250 to 350 in depth, the sand from 32 to 38 feet. A number of wells were also drilled on the Shearer farm, at Gap creek, at the same time. Three of them were good producers, but they were also shut down, and since have been flooded and ruined.

The wise woman has her eye on the future; the bride has hers on the present.

ADVERTISING COMMENT.
By THE HUSTLER.

The Sykes Drug Company opens its doors for business at the stand formerly occupied by the Ward Drug Co., and will no doubt receive a liberal share of the patronage in this line. Mr. Sykes has been for some time engaged in business with Mr. Howard Gardner, and is a correct and popular prescription druggist.

Speaking of druggist, suggests to us that there is urgent necessity in this city for some arrangement among them by which one house would be open all right. The fact that none are now so kept open is fraught with danger and we have heard it unfavorably commented on by those who have experienced the inconveniences and subsequent cost.

There is generally some one man in every town who is head and shoulders over every other retailer in his line of business. If there is no such man in Greensboro, there ought to be, and can be; one who does the best business, and makes the most money of any of them. The writer of this column has a plan that will make you the biggest man in the city in your particular line of business. The plan is simply to make you the best advertiser. Biggest merchant—best advertiser; the two are synonymous. Our plan doesn't admit of any lazy experimental theory. It is based on the hardest kind of hard common sense. No small space, or unchanged matter about it. No waiting for time to "make a change". If you don't have time, we'll help you, and we'll clothe your copy with the most convincing argument, to be supplemented by correct up-to-date display. If necessary and circumstances justify, we will buy new type for any particular ad. We will make you ad equal in every way to the best you see in the leading daily papers of larger cities. Of course it costs something to do this; not too much however, and it may look a little hard to pay out money when results may not be immediate. Advertising is a cumulative power in any business if done in a business like way and we are fully prepared by long experience, a first-class, neatly printed daily paper, and good equipment, to insure the success of our plan. If you are interested in reading this, a personal interview will be more interesting and we'll be pleased to see you.

The members of Greensboro Lodge No. 602 B. P. O. Elk, are requested to attend a regular meeting at the Temple tonight at 8 o'clock sharp. Business of importance and a full attendance desired. Fraternally yours, demands extensive knowledge for its successful treatment. THE GATE CITY LAUNDRY has help who are proficient in their special line, and what passes through their hands is thoroughly, well done, and so the finish is beautiful. Hit a dog and you will hear him yelp. An increase of 25 per cent. in one week tells the story that Gloss Finish is very popular. COLD BRICK CASE POSTPONED.

COUNSEL FOR DEFENCE WANTED
TWO COUNTS IN BILL QUASHED.

Judge Overruled Objections and the Case Will Come Up Tomorrow Morning—The Session of Court This Afternoon.

The case against the gold brick men came up in court this morning. The counsel for the defense objected to the bill of indictment, but their objections were overruled by the Judge, the prisoners remanded to jail, and the case will come up tomorrow morning. The attorney for the gold brick men is from Chicago, and is evidently an able lawyer, and well up on the law as regards cases of a similar nature to this one. He wanted two counts in the bill of indictment quashed, and have the men on the third. This third count, trying to obtain money under false pretences, is merely a misdemeanor, and the men, if convicted under that count alone, would be liable only for misdemeanor sentence.

The afternoon session of the court has been taken up with minor cases, principally those of negroes for larceny, and similar cases.

A large crowd was present this morning, and doubtless standing room will be at a premium tomorrow morning when the case is tried.

A QUIET MARRIAGE.

Mr. T. N. Winslow and Miss
Louise Palmer Married This Morning.

Mr. Thomas N. Winslow, formerly of this city, but now of Raleigh, and Miss Louise Palmer were quietly married at noon today, at the residence of the bride's father near Jamestown. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Egbert Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in his usual impressive style.

It was a very quiet affair, only a few friends and the immediate family of the contracting parties being present. Mr. R. M. Albright, and Mrs. Annie S. Cator, of this city, attended the ceremony.

After the ceremony the newly wedded couple left for a trip to the Northern cities. They will make their home in Raleigh.

Mr. Winslow is well known in this city, he having made this his home for many years. Miss Palmer is also well known here, she for several years having resided in Greensboro.

SAID HE WOULDN'T GO.

Disliked His Pal Being Locked up, and Said He Wouldn't be Done Likewise.

Officer Jordan arrested a negro, Martin, by name, last night for stealing a ride on a train. Fred McRae, another gentleman of color, objected with some display of language to the arrest of his friend, abused the railway company, and its employees, and wound up by stating that no man could take him to jail. Thereupon Officer Jordan nabbed him, and without more ado locked him up.

The same officer also made another haul during the night. This time it was one Chas. Harvey, porter for the McAdoo House, for beating a negro woman. Harvey was not locked up but will appear before the mayor this afternoon.

Officer Alexander arrested a small negro boy at noon today for stealing a ride on a train.

THE STRIKE SITUATION.

Strikers Say No Machinists Can Be Secured by the Railway.

In regard to the strike situation the railway officials continue in saying that many of the striking machinists have returned to work, and the places of those who have not returned to work, are being supplied. This statement the strikers deny, saying that the company can get machinists from nowhere.

In the meantime the road continues to operate its rolling stock without the assistance of machinists, except a few scattering ones, here and there.

MR. SCALES SPEAKS.

Accepts, in Behalf of the University, the Gift of the Graduating Class.

In speaking of the presentation and acceptance of the gift of the graduating class to the University of North Carolina to show their affection for their alma mater, the Chapel Hill correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, says:

According to an old method the retiring class always presents some gift to the University in token of their affection for their alma mater. The gift this year is one of the handsomest and costliest of any yet given. It is an heroic size statue of the bust of Athena or Minerva, copied from the marble statue in the Vatican. The presentation was made by Mr. Eben Alexander, Jr., '01, of Chapel Hill.

As Mr. Alexander concluded, the beautiful 7½ foot statue was unveiled and it appeared to be what he had claimed for it.

Hon. A. M. Scales, of Greensboro, a prominent young alumnus, spoke very feelingly and in perfect language accepted the gift for the University. With this the senior exercises were concluded for the morning.

A MERRY TIME.

A Party of Young People Visit
Guilford Battle Ground.

This is the season for moonlight picnics, and the young folks are beginning to take advantage of the weather, and the opportunities it affords for having a good time in the evenings. A crowd of such pleasure seekers enjoyed themselves last night at the Battle Ground under the chaperonage of Mrs. E. M. Hubbard, for many years a resident of this city, but now of Jacksonville, Fla.

Those who made up the party in addition to the chaperone, were Misses Mary Trotter, Emma Peters, Nannie Lee Smith, Fannie Vestal, Josephine Hubbard, Messrs. Sidney N. Peters, T. Gregory Frasier, Richard P. Turner, W. B. Barker, and Wade Leonard.

TO GIVE AN OPERETTA.

Next Wednesday Night—Some of the Best Musical Talent in the City to Participate.

Prof. Clarence Richard Brown, with the assistance of several of his pupils, will next Wednesday night, an operetta, "The Doctor of Alcantair." It will be well produced, and doubtless will be witnessed by a large audience. Those who take part are among Greensboro's best singers.

It has not yet been decided whether the operetta will be given in the Academy of Music, or in the chapel of the Lindsay Street graded school. Scenery will have to be put in either place, and in the Academy the gas meter has been taken out, and will have to be replaced before a performance could be given.

To Attend the W. C. T. U. Convention.

The meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, to be held this week at Littleton, N. C., promises to be of more than ordinary interest. Numbers of ladies from different parts of the State will be in attendance, and much good, it is hoped, will result from their gathering together. Several ladies went from Greensboro this morning, among them being Mrs. F. E. Ross, Mrs. Mary E. Cartland, Mrs. W. H. Osborn, Miss Eunice Darden, and others.

To Have a Piano Exhibit.

Mr. Charles Thomas, who represents the Knabe Piano people, spent last night in the city and left this morning for Graham. Mr. Thomas says that he is making preparations to have a fine exhibit of his make of pianos at the coming Central Carolina Fair, which will be held here in October. He also expects to have in attendance, at that time, a fine piano player, to show the public how a piano can be played.

Musically Inclined Druuk.

A white man, considerably the worse for liquor, and showing a decided taste for music, was locked up yesterday afternoon late, by Officers Alexander and Crutchfield. He gave his name as W. H. Gregson, from Randolph county, and said that he had only a short while since returned from the Philippines.

To Hold a Business Meeting.

The Wednesday afternoon Book Club will hold a business meeting Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. J. C. Jones on North Elm street. All members are expected to attend.

BY THE MOON LIGHT

A Crowd of Young Folks Go to Guilford College.

A party of the boys and girls from the West End, went to Guilford College last night, taking with them a lunch which was eaten on the campus at the college, after the most approved fashion of picnickers. The evening was much enjoyed by all who were fortunate enough to be present. They returned about midnight. Those who went were Misses Donna Coble, Lura Gibson, a member of the graduating class at the Greensboro Female College last year; Nora Coble, Myrtle Cook, Helen Smith, of Guilford College, Messrs. Will Fields, Dennis Craven, Kauffman Venable, Gus Beaman, and Will P. Hutton.

DEATH OF A LITTLE GIRL.

Rev. H. K. Boyer Goes to Mt.
Airy to Attend a Funeral.

Rev. H. K. Boyer received a telegram this morning from Mt. Airy stating that Miss Kate, daughter of Mr. S. Porter Graves, of that city, died this morning. No particulars as to the cause of her death were given in the message. Mr. Boyer went to Mt. Airy this afternoon. This is the second death in the family of Mr. Graves within a short period of time, and he has the sympathy of many friends in his bereavement.

To Mend the Plastering.

The plastering in the reception room of the Southern depot is becoming cracked and loose, and the company is having estimates made, preparatory to having the ceiling replastered. While of course none of it has as yet dropped there is danger that it may do so at any time, and were a good sized chunk to fall on the head of some passenger the road would be engaged in a law suit as a result.

Edney Ridge to Return.

Mr. Edney Ridge, who was taken to Richmond, Va., some time ago, to undergo an operation for appendicitis, is steadily improving, and will return to his home on the fifteenth of this month. The operation proved successful in every respect.

ADDITIONAL PERSONALS

Mr. Theodore Williams, of Burlington, was in the city this afternoon.

Mr. E. W. Jones, of Reidsville, was in the city this afternoon.

Mr. A. H. Thomas, of Ramseur, was in the city today.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Johnson, of New York, spent the afternoon in the city. Mr. Johnson is travelling passenger agent of the Southern Railway, with headquarters in New York City.

A Correction

Through a mistake in the first letter of a name it was stated in Monday's Telegram that Mr. John Truit was arrested and fined for wifebeating. It should have been John Fruit. Mr. Truit is an honorable, law-abiding man, and is not likely to be guilty of such a charge.

Card of Thanks.

Communicated.
We are now working earnestly to collect funds with which to build. Last year and the early part of this we raised $810. Sunday, June 2, 1901, we raised $308.61. We now have $1,118.61 so deposited that it must be applied to the erection of this new church.

I wish to thank the members of the church for their most hearty co-operation in this work. I am very grateful to the choir and their most excellent chorister, Dr. J. L. Bullock, for their valuable service. They have always done well. Last Sunday they surpassed themselves. The new "Wonder Cornet," made by Mr. C. G. Conn, greatly adds to their usefulness.

On behalf of the church I express gratitude to friends, both white and colored, for liberal donations. We thank you for all you do. Your gifts and your kind words of encouragement help us much.

TO LEARN WHAT SOUTH IS DOING.

Atlanta Constitution.

J. C. Bayless, of the editorial staff of The New York Times, who is making a trip through the south for the purpose of familiarizing himself with economic and sociological conditions here, has been in Atlanta since last Friday. Mr. Bayless is contributing to The Times while on his trip a series of articles on events of current interest. At the Aragon yesterday he said:

"My trip is almost solely for educational purposes. I have no fixed itinerary nor fixed time for making the trip. Certain economic conditions and changes that are taking place in the south are creating much interest throughout the country. I wanted to find out what the people down here were thinking and why they were thinking as they did. I couldn't do this from books or from reading the papers, but only by meeting and talking with the people themselves.

"The political unrest that is agitating certain portions of the south has also been an interesting study.

"So far as the result of my trip are concerned, there have been none of any definite value. I have made no specific discoveries. But I have made myself familiar through contact and personal observation with conditions that I only had a theoretical knowledge of before.

"Previous to coming to Atlanta I went through Virginia and the Carolinas. In Virginia I studied the negro question in connection with the recent agitation on the subject, and in the Carolinas I looked into the cotton industry and to some extent into the political situation. In Atlanta I have visited the cotton mills. I have wished to learn what economic effect the absorption of so much white labor as mill operatives was having. I wished to learn the conditions under which these operatives lived.

From Atlanta I shall go to Columbus to study the cotton mill industry there, and from Columbus to Montgomery, and to Booker Washington's school at Tuskegee. From the latter place I shall go to Birmingham, Anniston and Chattanooga, and through the iron and coal district, returning through Tennessee and West Virginia to New York in the latter part of June."

STANTON'S JUST FROM GEORGIA

JUNE TIME.

It's June time in Georgia, believers,
And the winds and the waters have speech;

You'd know it the way
Of the blossoms today,
And the rosy, bright round of the peach.

It's June time in Georgia, believers;
Each breeze has a musical tone;
Forgot is all grief
Where the seed seek the sheaf;
The world is all color and tone.

It's June time in Georgia, believers;
Let us drift with the sea-singing streams;

The world has been given
A foretaste of Heaven—
Its melody rare and its dreams!

IN BRIEF.

"What do they raise here, my friend?" asked the stranger of the Bill-ville citizen.

"Hell and cotton," was the expressive reply.

AT COURT IN BILLVILLE.

"You forgot your manners," said the Billville justice to the green lawyer:
"In addressin' this here court you must always say, 'Yer Honner.'"

"Looky here, Bill," rejoined the lawyer, "don't yer put on none of yer court airs with me, or I'll put some law in yer head by bustin' you side er it with this here Georgy code!"

NOTED BY THE WAY..

Now climbs the big sun higher,
And life's a melting state;
The poet tunes his lyre,
The liar digs his bait.

Says the Billville Banner: "Plowing has been somewhat retarded in this section, as the Georgia mule doesn't know how to follow the furrow in an overcoat."

A Hero.

St. Louis Star.
Speaking of martyrdom, Lee On, a heathen Chinaman, suffering from a broken head, was told that he would die unless he allowed the surgeons to cut off his queue. "I die," he said and the patrol wagon took him home. It was very commonplace, and yet was not the man as truly a martyr to his religious faith as any individual, who in the long ago was burned at the stake?

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever, that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery.
One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble.

EVIL OF EATING ALONE.

Talk and Companionship are Essential to Proper Digestion.

The Lancet.

At a time like the present, when the marrying age of the average man of the middle classes is being more and more postponed, the physical ills of bachelorhood come increasingly under the notice of the medical men. It is not good for man or woman to live alone. Indeed, it has been well said that for solitude to be successful a man must be either an angel or devil. This refers, perhaps, mainly to the moral aspects of isolation, and with these we have now no concern.

There are certain physical ills, however, which are not the least among the disadvantages of loneliness. Of these there is many a clerk in London, many a young barrister, rising, perhaps, but not yet far enough risen, many a business man or journalist who will say that one of the most trying features of his unmarried life is to have to eat alone. And a premature dyspepsia is the only thing that ever takes him to his medical man. There are some few happily disposed individuals who can dine alone and not eat too fast, nor too much nor too little. With the majority it is different. The average man puts his novel or his paper before him and thinks that he will lengthen out the meal with due deliberation by reading a little with, and more, between the courses. He will just employ his mind enough to help, and too little to interfere with indigestion. In fact, he will provide that gentle mental accompaniment which with happier people conversation gives to a meal.

This is your solitary's excellent idea. In reality he becomes engrossed in what he is reading till suddenly finding his chop cold demolishes it in a few mouthfuls; or else he finds that he is hungry and paying no attention to the book, which he flings aside, he rushes through his food as fast as possible, to plunge into his armchair and literature afterward. In either case the lonely man must digest at a disadvantage. For due and easy nutrition food should be slowly taken and the mind should not be intensely excited during the process. Every one knows that violent bodily exercise is bad just after a meal, and mental exertion is equally so.

Wise people do not even argue during or after dinner, and observation of afterdinner speeches will convince any one that most speakers neither endure themselves nor excite in their hearers any severe intellectual effort.

In fact, the experience of countless generations, from the red Indian of the woods to the white shirted diners of a modern party, has perpetuated the lesson that a man should not eat alone, nor think much at this time, but should talk and be talked to while he feeds. Most people do not think much when they talk, and talking is a natural accompaniment of eating and drinking.

How does it fare with the many solitary women of today? No better, we know, than with the men, but differently. Alone or not a man may generally be trusted at any rate to take food enough. (We suppose, of course, that he can get it.) With a woman it is different. She is more emotional, more imaginative, and less inclined to realize the gross necessities of existence. Therefore, the woman doomed to dine alone as often as not does not dine at all. She gets dyspepsia because her digestion has not sufficient practice; a man gets it because his functions practice it often in the wrong way.

Worst of all, perhaps, is the solitary cook. In the myriads of small flats in London there are thousands of women "doing" for their solitary masters or mistresses. These women, whose main occupation is to prepare food for others, find it impossible to enjoy, or even to take, food themselves. As confectioners are said to give the apprentices a free run of the stock of the shop for the first few days, knowing that it will effectually cure appetite afterward, so the women who are always occupied by buying and preparing food grow unable to use it for themselves. These people suffer from dyspepsia which is cured if somebody else manages their kitchen for a week, allowing them to take meals without preparing them.

It needs no moralist to declare the evils of solitariness. Man and woman is a gregarious animal. Physically and intellectually we improve with companionship. Certainly it is not good to eat and to drink alone. It is a sad fact of our big cities that they hold hundreds of men and women who in the day are too busy and at night too lonely to feed with profit, much less with any pleasure.

Sillius—"Do you think woman was created from a rib?" Cynicus—"That is a bone of contention."

Commanding Attention

There are several ways of getting attention.

You can attract it, draw it, plead for it, ask for it, and command it.

Which would you rather, do with your printed announcement?

Everyone who makes things to sell or who does things for money, has something to say to the public.

The way that you say it is as important at least as what you say.

What you say is your part.

The way you say it is ours.

Printing that cannot be turned down, mislaid, sidetracked or overlooked is the kind we do.

It is distinguished printing—printing that not only may, but which must be seen—printing which doesn't simply ask, but which demands and commands attention.

Are not these the characteristics you want in your printing? Then come in and talk to us about the next booklet, folder, circular or other business-bringing printing thing.
